

Plastic Free Awareness Program 2021

The Department of Environmental Science, Faculty of Science organised the “Plastic Free Awareness Program” on 11th Nov 2021. For this there was a visit to Bhakhamau Village, Lucknow for the furtherance of Campaign to aware the local residents and students of primary school about the negative implications of Plastic waste pollution on Environment and Human health and how everyday actions can lessen the recurring problems.

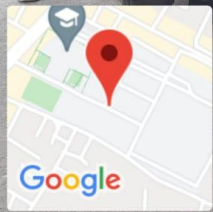

This awareness program was initiated with the motivational words of Prof. M.A. Khalid, Head Department of Environmental Science. All the faculty members of Environmental Science participated in this visit along with the students. Each and every faculty has delivered a talk, thereby spreading the awareness and how this issue can be overruled. Reuse and Recycling is not the only effecting solution of this plastic pollution but one has to avoid the use of plastic wherever possible.

This Campaign of the department of Environmental Science, Integral University is a small step towards “Empowering people to make a difference” by spreading awareness among the society.
