organized by

Human Values Club

FACULTY OF ARCHITECTURE, PLANNING & DESIGN
INTEGRAL UNIVERSITY, LUCKNOW

The Faculty of Architecture, Planning & Design at Integral University recently came together to commemorate World Water Day on 22nd March 2024 with a series of engaging activities organized by the Human Value Club. The event aimed to raise awareness about the importance of water conservation and sustainable water management.

The highlight of the celebration was a poster-making competition, where students showcased their creativity and artistic talents by designing posters that conveyed powerful messages about the significance of water conservation. The competition provided a platform for students to express their ideas and perspectives on the pressing issue of water scarcity and the need for collective action to address it.

In addition to the poster-making competition, various interactive sessions and discussions were held to educate students about the vital role of water in sustaining life and ecosystems. The event also underscored the faculty's commitment to promoting sustainability and environmental stewardship within the academic community. Through collaborative efforts and initiatives like the World Water Day celebration, students and faculty members are actively contributing to the university's broader goals of fostering a culture of environmental consciousness and social responsibility.

The Event was coordinated by Faculty Member Ar. Mohammad Salman & Ar. Umair Ali under the guidance of Prof. (Ar.) Zeba Nisar, Dean, FoAPD and Prof. (Dr.) Safiullah Khan, Head, Department of Architecture.
