Report on Student Induction Program "DEEKSHRAMBH" for newly admitted students in Department of Pharmacy, Integral UniversityDay 1

On August 1, 2024, the Department of Pharmacy at Integral University hosted the Student Induction Program "DEEKSHRAMBH" to warmly welcome newly admitted students. The event began with an inspiring address by Prof. Syed Misbahul Hasan, Dean, Department of Pharmacy, who outlined the institution's mission, recent accomplishments, and the importance of the program in the students' academic journey.

Following the Dean's address, faculty members were introduced, offering insights into their academic expertise and research interests. This helped students become acquainted with their future mentors. The Departmental Placement Coordinator then provided an overview of the placement process, highlighting career opportunities and the department's support system for achieving professional success.

The Departmental Website Coordinator followed with a briefing on the departmental website's features, ensuring students know how to access essential resources and stay informed about departmental updates. The Centre for Incubation and Entrepreneurship Development was also introduced, emphasizing the resources available for students interested in innovation and entrepreneurial ventures.

The program concluded with an address by the Program Coordinator, who detailed the induction schedule, academic expectations, and available support services. The event concluded with an interactive Q&A session, fostering engagement and setting a positive tone for the academic year.

Day 2

On August 2, 2024, the Department of Pharmacy at Integral University continued its "DEEKSHRAMBH" Student Induction Program with an engaging and informative schedule. The day began with addresses from the Department Proctorial Board members, who discussed the importance of maintaining academic integrity, discipline, and the support systems available to ensure students' success throughout their academic journey.

Following this, a few final-year students shared their experiences, providing valuable insights into university life, the challenges they faced, and the opportunities available. Their stories offered new students practical advice and inspiration for their upcoming years at the university.

The program also featured 2-3 documentary videos showcasing eminent personalities and various facets of the pharmaceutical field. These documentaries provided a broader perspective on the industry and the impact of pharmacy on society.

Additionally, three short documentaries on universal human values were screened, emphasizing the importance of ethical principles and personal development.

The day concluded with a guided campus tour led by course coordinators. Students visited key facilities, including the Central Library, Centre for Career Guidance and Development (CCGND), Centre for Incubation and Entrepreneurship Development (CIED), sports facilities, and the Alumni Office. This tour helped students familiarize themselves with the university's resources and opportunities available to them.

Day 3

The day commenced with an expert lecture by Dr. Mukhtar Azam Khan, Associate Director of Clinical Excellence at Sandoz India Pvt. Ltd., Hyderabad. Dr. Khan provided valuable insights into clinical development and the global pharmaceutical landscape, offering students a glimpse into the practical applications of their studies.

Following the lecture, the program featured an inspiring address by Mr. Farid Uddin, an esteemed alumnus and CMC Manager at MSD. Mr. Uddin shared his professional journey, emphasizing the significance of perseverance and continuous learning in achieving success in the pharmaceutical industry.

The day also included cultural activities, with newly admitted students showcasing their talents through poetry performances. These activities added a creative and personal touch to the induction, fostering a sense of community among the new cohort.

The event concluded with a comprehensive visit to the departmental facilities. Students toured the departmental library, laboratories, classrooms, herbal garden, and machine room, gaining firsthand experience of the resources and infrastructure that will support their academic and research endeavors throughout their studies. The program ended with the concluding remark by the Prof. Juber Akhtar, Head, Department of Pharmacy.
