In accordance with the directives of Uttar Pradesh Higher Education Department, Government of Uttar Pradesh, Department of Bioengineering, Integral University organized Quiz Competition on constitutional awareness under “Hamara Samvidhan, Hamara Swabhimaan” for the students of the university. The event, held on April 15th, 2025, served as a platform for participants to gain knowledge about the constitution and create constitutional awareness emphasizing the profound role of Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar in framing the constitution of India. The questions covered a wide range of topics including the Preamble, Fundamental Rights and Duties, Directive Principles, Constitutional Amendments, key personalities in Indian constitutional history, and landmark judgments.

The competition attracted significant participation, with over thirty students showing their interest in the Indian constitution. The event aimed to engage students in a healthy competitive environment while deepening their knowledge of constitutional principles, rights, duties, and historical significance.

Winners of the event are:

Quiz competition:

I prize: Garvit Verma from M.Tech

II prize: Pooja Kumari from M.Tech

III prize Dareen Tanzeem from B.Sc Biotech

The event was coordinated by Ms. Gazia Nasir, Assistant Professor, Department of Bioengineering, Ms. Haram Sarfaraz and Ms. Ghazala Anjum ensures seamless execution and adherence to the event's objectives. Meanwhile, the student coordinators, Mohd. Amaan and Tahir Ali played a pivotal role in liaising between the participants and the organizing committee, ensuring that the event ran smoothly from start to finish.

The event was a grand success, fostering interest and awareness about the Constitution of India. It served as an excellent platform for students to test their knowledge and enhance their understanding of civic responsibilities. The department extends its gratitude to the Head Prof. Alvina Farooqui and Prof. Aisha Kamal, faculty members, student volunteers, and participants for making the event a memorable one.
